BEYOND INTEGRITY
Exploring the role of business in preserving civil society

STRONG CIVIL SOCIETY =
LONG TERM BUSINESS STABILITY

Insights

- Privately held dialogues between key stakeholders and host governments can be as effective as public challenge.
- Leveraging formal and informal networks is key in convincing corporations to act on behalf of civil society.
- Firms in consumer-facing industries are responsive to large-scale social movements.

CASE STUDIES
Demonstrating how businesses can use their influence to support civil society

- Cambodia
  Sector: Clothing
  Solidarity in the fight for the freedom of assembly and association

- Thailand
  Sector: Food
  Fighting against the criminalisation of the freedom of expression

- Pakistan
  Sector: IT
  Speaking up against the increasing threat of censorship

- Angola
  Sector: Mining
  Voicing the unheard; the fight for free speech

To find out more, visit cafonline.org

About Charities Aid Foundation

Charities Aid Foundation is a leading not-for-profit organisation with over 90 years of experience at the forefront of philanthropy. CAF works to support a vibrant and independent civil society by pioneering effective and sustainable ways of giving. With active operations across six continents, we harness local knowledge and expertise to support impactful, tax efficient giving around the world.

Beyond Integrity’, produced in collaboration with the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE), shows how and why companies should use their influence to defend civil society independence. The authors of the report conducted the research on a consultancy commissioned by CAF as part of their MSc Development Management at the Department of International Development at LSE.

Registered charity number 268369